For the table below, questions are listed on the ethical aspects of an application. If you mark a 'yes' for the question, it follows that: If you mark a 'yes'

Questions marked with *: the applicant is legally or on the basis of institutional regulations obliged to ask for an ethical approval at the competent ethics committee of the host institution. Please do take into account that there is no obligation with regard to the research itself, for the publication of the results an approval may still be necessary.
• For the questions marked with *: even when the answer is 'no', an approval is still required.

*If you have answered questions with an * positively, you must submit your proposal to the ethics committee as soon as your application has been approved for funding. Your project can only start when this approval has been formally given. Only if the advice relates to a work package that is planned for a later stage of the project, and if legislation allows, the host institution can decide to give permission to the researcher to submit the proposal just before the start of that part of the research. Please keep in mind that this delayed permission is not possible for all research institutions. Also keep in mind that the advisory procedure can take some time and that you should submit your proposal to the ethics committee well in time.*
If you have answered questions with an * positively, your proposal can only be submitted to the ethics committee if you have received an approval from the host institution. If you have not received an approval, you should submit your proposal to the ethics committee well in time.

~~Questions that are not marked: Although no ethics approval is needed for issues that are not marked, there might be other legal and/or institutional requirements to be fulfilled. The applicant will have to collect on the project. For the questions that are not marked, the applicant is responsible for the evaluation of the issue and take, if necessary, the appropriate measures. If in doubt about the evaluation of the issue, it is advised to contact the supporting services of the host institution.~~

Does your research involve the use of human foetal tissues / cells?*

2. Humans

Does your research involve human participants?

• Are they volunteers for social or human sciences research?

Please note that not every research involving human participants triggers the obligation to request ethical approval. However, it is important to keep in mind that the journal in which you want to publish the results of your research might ask you, nonetheless, to submit an ethical approval. For this reason, it might be advisable to request ethical approval anyway before the start of the project from the relevant ethics committee within your institution.

Does your research involve collecting and/or processing of personal data?

The GDPR requires that all personal data processing activities are recorded. Please consult your host institution for the procedure to follow as soon as the project is granted.

5. Animals

DATA MANAGEMENT PLAN

Data management is an integral part of sound scientific research. It covers the description of data and metadata, their storage and long-term preservation, the designation of responsible persons, the handling of highly sensitive data, and the open access to and sharing of research data.

The FWO has made data management a key element of its policy for all support channels provided by the FWO. The FWO expects researchers to pay due attention to this dimension before, during and for at least five years after their research.

For background information on data management and the procedures regarding the Data Management Plan (DMP), which FWO expects from its applicants when applying for research funding, please see our website.

DECLARATION BY THE APPLICANT

General

In completing this application, the applicant confirms that to the best of his/her knowledge and belief, the information in this application is complete and correct.

The applicant will inform FWO immediately if the intended project cannot be carried out as foreseen or if a major change occurs that may hinder the planned implementation of the project.

The applicant declares that he/she has read and agrees with the FWO regulations that form an integral part of the application documents published

The FWO watches over the scientific integrity from the moment research funding is applied for until the execution of the research and the publication of the research results. Therefore, researchers benefiting from FWO support as well as their host institutions, (co-)supervisors and other collaborators involved in FWO research are required to adhere to the scientific integrity at all times.

To this end, elementary rules of behaviour have been laid down in the Ethical Code for scientific research in Belgium and the European Code of Conduct for Research Integrity. Both documents are included in the call for research proposals. The FWO assumes that each researcher has acknowledged these codes from the moment the application is submitted and undertakes to comply with their provisions in all stages of the proposed research. This also applies to their host institutions, (co-)supervisors and collaborators involved in FWO research, for whom the applicant bears partial responsibility.

If there is any doubt about the applicability or implementation of a provision, the host institution and/or the researcher responsible for the project at hand will contact the FWO administration in order to clarify or make concrete arrangements about the relevant provision.
